Markets may see some recovery, GST rate specific actions to be in limelight

The Indian markets reeling under global pressure slumped and major benchmarks dropped close to a percent in the last session. Today, the start is likely to be mildly in green and some recovery can be seen after the sharp fall of last trade. Traders will be cheering the GST Council finalising tax rates of goods and services under the four-slab structure with essential items of daily use being kept in the lowest bracket of 5 percent. The Council fixed the rates for over 1200 items under the Goods and Services tax. Lots of daily consumption items such as milk, fruit and vegetables, jaggery or gur, foodgrain and cereals have been exempted from tax, while others such as sugar, tea, coffee, edible oil, mithai, and newsprint have been placed in the lowest slab of 5 per cent. Luxury cars will attract 28 per cent GST plus a cess of 15 per cent, while small petrol cars will face 28 per cent plus 1 per cent cess, and diesel small cars 28 per cent tax plus 3 per cent cess. Consumer durables, which now face a total tax of about 32 per cent, will be taxed in the 28 per cent slab. The panel will discuss tax rates for gold and some other items today and could meet one more time if necessary to decide rates on remaining items. There will be sector specific buzz based on GST rates and steel stocks may see some uptrend as the GST rate on coal has been fixed at 5 percent. The move will bring down the input cost and would lead to stabilisation of prices.

The move will bring down the input cost and would lead to stabilisation of prices. There will be some buzz in banking sector too, as the RBI has eased the norms of setting up bank branches and said branches manned by either bank's staff or its business correspondents where services are provided for a minimum of four hours per day for at least five days a week will be called a banking outlet. There will be lots of important earnings announcements too to keep the markets in action.

Global Market Overview

Asian markets end mostly in red on Thursday

Asian equity markets ended mostly in red on Thursday as US political turmoil continued to keep investors nervous. Besieged from all sides, the Trump administration appointed former FBI Director Robert Mueller as a special counsel to oversee the federal investigation into Russia's involvement in the US presidential election last year. That followed a report from The New York Times that former FBI Director James Comey had composed a memorandum recording the President's request to drop an investigation of Michael Flynn, the former national security adviser. Chinese shares ended lower as data showed home price growth in China's biggest cities softened in April due to stricter restrictions on property purchases. Further, Japanese shares hit 2-1/2-week lows as the yen's recent strength on fading expectations for continuous Fed rate-hike actions through 2017 and the allegations surrounding Trump's Russian ties overshadowed strong GDP data.

US markets closed higher on strong economic data

The US markets closed higher on Thursday, as investors' sentiment, battered by political uncertainty surrounding President Donald Trump, stabilized on a positive reading on jobless claims. The number of Americans on unemployment fell mid-May to the lowest level since 1988, underscoring the strongest labor market in years. So-called continuing claims, or the number of people collecting jobless benefits, fell by 22,000 to 1.9 million in early May. That's the lowest level in 29 years. The US economy has been creating new jobs at a rapid clip for the past six years, knocking the unemployment rate below 5% and helping millions of Americans to recover from the worst recession in decades. Applications for unemployment benefits have registered less than 300,000 for 115 straight weeks, the longest run since the early 1970s. The more stable monthly average of jobless claims fell slightly to 240,750.

The Dow Jones Industrial Average gained 56.09 points or 0.27 percent to 20,663.02, Nasdaq added 43.89 points or 0.73 percent to 6,055.13, while S&P 500 edged higher by 8.69 points or 0.37 percent to 2,365.72.

➤ IT industry should focus on domestic opportunities to compensate job losses: Assocham

Amid rising worries over job losses due to the ongoing H-1B visa troubles, industry body, the Associated Chambers of Commerce of India (Assocham) has said that the Indian IT and BPM industry should shift their focus on domestic opportunities, noting that this is time to redraw strategy that gives a good look at the home market, which can more than make up at least in the short to medium term, for the possible dent on jobs in the disruptive overseas markets.

Assocham's secretary general DS Rawat claimed "lakhs of new jobs" can be created through the focus on domestic opportunity which can make up for the losses due to upheavals in global markets and changing technologies. The industry body has said government's financial inclusion programmes like Prime Minister Jan Dhan Yojana (PMJDY) and Aadhar based service delivery models offer interesting job opportunities in the country itself and added that an increased focus on the domestic front will be a win-win move for both the country as well as the IT industry. Besides, it has said that data generated by PMJDY and its linkages with Direct Benefit Transfer (DBT) can be a delight for different set of analytics and can be used to help the fast moving consumer goods, auto, telecom, insurance, agriculture sectors.

As per Assocham, the Indian IT-BPM industry employs about four million young workforce in the country in over 16,000 companies and 60 per cent of the current work done by the Indian IT industry is for global companies in the banking, financial services and insurance sector. It has cited factors like huge Internet base (400 million) and said that increasing adoption of digital payments that will further fuel the growth of technology uptake in the country.

➤ Indian banks credit worth Rs 2.60 lakh crore could turn stressed by FY19: Ind-Ra

Credit rating agency, India Ratings and Research (Ind-Ra) in its latest report has said that corporate and small and medium enterprise (SME) loans aggregating to Rs 2.60 lakh crore, which is 3.2 percent of total bank credit, could potentially be recognized as stressed loans by FY19. It noted that Indian banks are sitting on unrecognized stressed loans worth of Rs 7.7 lakh crore. It pegs stressed corporate and SME debt at 22 percent of total bank credit and the recognised stressed corporate and SME loans in the system currently stands at around 12 percent of total bank credit.

The report highlighted that the impaired assets will peak at 12.5-13 percent by fiscal 2019. It also estimated that out of the total unrecognized stressed book that banks are sitting on, around 1.8% is to stressed public sector units, around 2% of it either enjoys some group support and could flow to joint lender forum or would be subject to asset sale, around 2.9% could be the addition to the restructured book from infrastructure projects and 3.2% is the potential slippage in next 12-18 months.

The credit rating agency further said that the sectors which have the highest unrecognised stressed exposure include infrastructure, power, telecom and real estate among a few other sectors. It also elaborated that while the iron and steel sector has seen lot of stress recognition in the asset quality review exercise conducted by the Reserve Bank in the last fiscal, provisioning continues to remain inadequate considering higher loss given default estimates. It added that some sectors including infrastructure, real estate among others have lower amount of stress recognised as in many cases they enjoy group support.

➤ Govt mulling to ease FDI norms in construction, print media and retail sector

In a bid to attract higher foreign investments in the country, the government is mulling easing foreign direct investment (FDI) policy on construction, print media and retail sectors, which will provide investor friendly climate to foreign players and in turn boost economic growth & create jobs. In this regard the commerce and industry ministry may approach the Cabinet soon to get the final approval on these proposals.

In print media the government is considering to relax FDI norms in certain areas, currently government allows foreign investment in areas such as printing of newspapers and publishing of scientific magazines with certain conditions and FDI caps. In construction and development sector, proposal is to ease the policy, under which an Indian company could be allowed to bring FDI even for undeveloped plots in any project. Currently, 100 percent FDI is allowed in the construction sector subject to various conditions. The government is also mulling easing policy in single brand and multi-brand retail trading and there are consideration to allow 100 percent FDI in single brand retail sector through automatic route with certain conditions.

Foreign investments are considered crucial for economic development of the country and to attract maximum FDI into the country, the government has been relaxing the foreign investment norms in various sectors. Foreign investments will help improve the country's balance of payments situation and strengthen the rupee value against other global currencies, especially the dollar and India needs around $1 trillion to overhaul its infrastructure sector such as ports, airports and highways to boost growth.

➤ India's exports increasing despite adverse global circumstances: Sitharaman

Commerce and Industry Minister Nirmala Sitharaman has said that exports growth rate in India have been increasing despite adverse global circumstances and headwinds and added that efforts are being made to offset any impact on domestic exports due to rollout of Goods and Services Tax (GST) regime. She also said that the government will come out with amendments to the foreign trade policy (FTP) to align it with the new tax regime, which is to be rolled out from July 1.

The minister said that since September last year, Indian exports are consistently going up. She said "I can see this as a clear indicator that our exporters are performing against all odds and showing their capacity to withstand any headwinds and the global situation." She also expressed her hopes that the country would achieve the target of doubling India's exports to $900 billion by 2020.

Sitharaman said that global situation has not improved drastically and pointed out that even if there are green shoots that people are seeing and saying that there are prospects that world trade might improve, it is yet to be significantly felt by others. She noted that even in this type of environment, Indian exporters are doing well. In the financial year 2016-17, while Indian merchandise shipments aggregated at $275 billion, services exports grew by 3.4 per cent to $160.68 billion.

➤ CCEA gives green signal to new coal linkage policy for power plants

In a big relief to the power sector, the Cabinet Committee on Economic Affairs (CCEA) has given its approval to long pending new coal linkage policy, for ensuring proper supply of the fuel to power plants through the reverse auction route. The coal linkage auction policy for power has been named 'Shakti' or a scheme to harness and allocate koyla (Coal) transparently in India. The move may ease stress on account of non-availability of linkages to power sector projects.

Shakti will help power producers ensure fuel supplies in an organised manner. The government's initiatives as well as international market conditions have helped bring down price of the dry fuel and boosted domestic production. But a mechanism was required for providing coal linkages to power plants at competitive rates. The new policy will address this concern and put in place a proper mechanism for sourcing of the dry fuel by the power plants as per their schedules.

The Coal Ministry in its statement has said that allocation of linkages for power sector shall be based on auction of linkages or through Power Purchase Agreement (PPA) based on competitive bidding of tariffs except for the state and the central power generating companies and the exceptions provided in Tariff Policy, 2016. It further said that Coal drawal will be permitted against valid long-term PPAs and to be concluded medium term PPAs. PPA is a contract between two parties, one which generates electricity and one which is looking to purchase it.

The Ministry added that as per the new policy, thermal power plants (TPPs) having Letter of Assurance (LoA) will be eligible to sign Fuel Supply Agreement (FSA) after ensuring that the plants are commissioned, respective milestones met, all specified conditions of the LoA fulfilled within specified timeframe and where nothing adverse is detected against the LoA holders and the TPPs are commissioned before March 31, 2022. TPPs, part of 78000 mw, which could not be commissioned by March 31, 2015, will now be eligible for coal drawal if the plants are commissioned before March 31, 2022.

CNX Nifty

Technical View

Nifty Spot (9429.45) Nifty finally had leg down and did some health correction and filled the Gap 9449. Going forwards has to now trade ab 9450 for a recovery towards 9470-9484-9504 levels. In yesterday correction all the sectors saw sideways to some profit booking mode except IT which was showing some strength and all the It stocks were moving in tan-dome which help curtail the Nifty fall. Selective Pharma stocks also made some good comeback from oversold zone. Over all if Nifty manages to close the Week blw 9449 then this will be early indication of the inevitable drop towards the lower support zone of 9372-9337. BankNifty lower support 22608-22450 and higher hurdle 22730-22900
