Markets to make positive start on firm global cues

Indian markets gave up early gains to end sharply lower on Wednesday amid persisting worries about global trade war. Today, the markets are likely to make positive start on Thursday, tracking firm global cues. Traders will be getting support with report that the trade deficit between India and the US dropped by almost six per cent in 2017 compared to the previous year, even as it continued to harp on issues such as market access and high tariffs on several American products being imported into India. Some support will also come from NITI Aayog CEO Amitabh Kant's statement that the government has been able to save Rs 83,000 crore through direct benefit transfer (DBT) scheme. He said that advantages of digitization are so enormous in making India a progressive, effective society. Traders will also take some encouragement with private weather forecasting agency Skymet's forecast that Monsoon in India is likely to be normal with no chances of drought this year. The forecaster said there were 5 per cent chances of excess rainfall that is more than 110 percent of long-period average (LPA). The average, or normal, rainfall in the country is defined between 96 and 104 per cent of a 50-year average for the entire four-month monsoon season. Meanwhile, the government said India's prospects to become a top steel exporter depends on a range of factors, including competitiveness and demand, and will not be impacted by the trade barriers the US has put on imports.

Domestic Market Overview

Benchmarks end lower on US-China trade worries

Wednesday's session turned-out to be a dismal day of trade for Indian equity benchmarks, where frontline gauges ended the day with a cut of over a percent, breaching their crucial 33,100 (Sensex) and 10,150 (Nifty) levels, as trade war fears escalated after China announced 25% tariff on 106 products in 14 categories imported from the US, including soybeans, automobiles and chemicals. Markets started the session on positive note with traders taking some encouragement from Finance Minister Arun Jaitley's statement that direct tax collection has grown by 18 per cent to cross Rs 10.02 trillion in the financial year ended on March 31, 2018. He said demonetisation and GST implementation have resulted in higher formalisation of the economy which is evident from additional 10 million IT returns being filed in the previous financial year. The sentiments also remained upbeat on private weather forecasting agency report that monsoon rains in India are expected to be average in 2018, raising prospects of higher farm and economic growth in the $2 trillion economy. The report added that monsoon rains are expected to be 100 percent of the long-term average.

However, markets pared all of their initial gains and entered into red terrain as traders turned anxious on report that the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) is unlikely to yield to the India Inc's pressure for a benign monetary policy stance by keeping policy rates unchanged in its first monetary policy review of 2018-19 to be announced on Thursday against the backdrop of hardening global crude oil prices. Some concerns also came with the Andhra Pradesh government's statement that the Centre 'grossly failed' in effectively implementing the Goods and Services Tax and accused it of 'sidetracking' the new taxation system.

Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI), in 2016-17, firms had mobilized Rs 29,558 crore through this route. Besides, State of Finance Shiv Pratap Shukla said that Public Sector Banks (PSBs) wrote off Rs 2.42 lakh crore worth of loans between April 2014 and September 2017. Meanwhile, stocks related to sugar sector edged mostly in green with report highlighting that sugar output increased 49 per cent to 28.18 million tonne (MT) so far in 2017-18 marketing year, but mills are unable to make cane payment to growers owing to low prices. Stocks related to tea space too remained on buyers' radar on a private report that Profit margins for bulk tea producers, particularly in north India, is likely to improve in the just-concluded financial year on firm price trends from August 2017 to January 2018.

Global Market Overview

Asian markets close mostly in red on Wednesday

Asian stocks closed mostly lower on Wednesday as investors braced for China's countermeasures against US tariffs on Chinese products worth about $50 billion focusing on high-tech items. Beijing has immediately vowed to impose measures of the 'same strength' against US goods, fueling fears that escalating trade worries could hurt global growth. Traders also awaited cues from Friday's US employment report as well as a slew of US reports on private sector employment, service sector activity, factory orders and international trade due this week amid expectations for further monetary policy tightening. Chinese shares ended slightly lower as investors trimmed their equity exposure ahead of the Tomb-sweeping holiday break. While there was some lingering unease among investors, most see the widely-expected US sanctions as having negligible impact on growth, and expect a full-blown trade war will be averted through negotiations.

US markets closed higher on Wednesday

The US markets closed higher on Wednesday, in the latest example of heavy intraday volatility as investors continued to suss out the likelihood of, or the potential impact from, a trade war between the United States and China. St. Louis Fed President James Bullard said that the US Federal Reserve does not need to raise its benchmark interest rate much further given how close it is to the neutral rate. Bullard added that it is not necessary to raise the policy rate further in order to put downward pressure on inflation, since inflation is already below target. Bullard, who does not have a vote on the Fed's interest rate policy this year, has become critical of the central bank's plans to continue to raise rates as it seeks to normalize short-term borrowing costs amid a strong economy.

➤ India to achieve 60 GW wind energy capacity before 2022 deadline: IWTMA

The Indian Wind Turbine Manufacturers Association (IWTMA) has said that India is on its way to achieve the target of 60 gigawatt (GW) of installed wind energy capacity before 2022 deadline, as it has already crossed 34 GW mark.

He also said that the industry is now on high-growth trajectory with a healthy order pipeline. Besides, he noted that there was a clear business visibility of 10-12 GW even before the start of this financial year with announcement and plan of bids by the New and Renewable Energy (MNRE) Ministry. He added that the wind industry is confident of the government's continuous support.

Tanti further said that they are seeing large scale projects of 200 to 300 MW capacity, which brings in advantages of scale at project level, leading to cost optimization there by benefitting working capital of companies. He noted that India looks to achieve the target of 175 GW of installed renewable energy capacities by 2022.
