Markets likely to make pessimistic start amid weak global cues

Indian equity benchmarks ended marginally higher on Tuesday, after the BJP emerged as the single-largest party in Karnataka, but fell short of majority to form the next government on its own. Today, the markets are likely to make pessimistic start, amid weak global cues. Traders will remain concern with report that India's trade deficit slightly widened to $13.72 billion in April from $13.25 billion a year ago. Exports grew by 5.17% to $25.91 billion in April compared to the same month last year on account of healthy performance by engineering, chemicals and pharmaceutical segments. Imports too grew by 4.60% to $39.63 billion in the month on yearly basis. Traders will react negatively on a private report that inflation is set to rise further towards the second half of the fiscal, and could average 5.1% this financial year compared to 3.6% last year. According to the global financial services major, the factors that are likely to impact inflation going forward include higher oil prices, a weaker rupee, higher MSPs and more currency in circulation. However, traders may get some support later in the day with Commerce and Industry Minister Suresh Prabhu pitching for inclusion of the trade facilitation pact on services in the World Trade Organisation (WTO) saying it would help promote growth of the global economy. He said that the proposed agreement would help professionals move smoothly from one place to another. Meanwhile, NITI Aayog, the government's premier think tank, plans to hold the fourth meeting of its governing council next month to discuss the agenda for 'New India 2022' to expedite economic growth over the next four years.

Benchmarks end slightly lower as BJP falls shy of majority in Karnataka

Tuesday's trading session turned out to be a disappointing day of trade for Indian equity benchmarks where frontline gauges failed to hold their initial gains and ended slightly in red, as uncertainty with respect to formation of government in Karnataka loomed. Despite making cautious start to the session, markets gained traction to trade jubilantly for most part of the day, as sentiments remained up-beat with India Ratings and Research (Ind-Ra) expecting the Corporate Outlook for FY19 to remain stable, driven by profitability improvement in FY18, leading to deleveraging. However, the improvement remains restricted to the metals sector and a broader recovery could take much longer. Meanwhile, in order to meet the ever-increasing demands of India's growing population, NITI Aayog CEO Amitabh Kant has said that the country's real Gross domestic product (GDP) must register a growth of around 10 percent annually over the next three decades.

However, market participants pared all of their initial gains in second half of the trade which dragged market lower after reports of Congress-JD(S) alliance in Karnataka. According to media reports, JD(S) has accepted Congress' proposal of making HD Kumaraswamy the state's chief minister. Sentiments also remained dampened on a private report stating that the Reserve Bank of India is expected to begin its rate hike cycle from December quarter, and may go for three rate hikes by 2019 taking the key policy rate to 6.75%. Adding to the pessimism, India's Retail inflation, measured by the consumer price index (CPI) rose to 4.58% in April 2018 as compared to 4.28% in March 2018, while rural inflation increased to 4.67% and urban inflation surged to 4.42% in April 2018. However, CPI food inflation for April eased marginally to 2.80% versus 2.81% in last month.

A private report enlightened that capex by Indian companies is slowly making a comeback as Tata Steel, Ambuja Cements, Eicher Motors, Hero MotoCorp, Asian Paints, CEAT, Apollo Tyres and Jubilant FoodWorks among other companies have announced investments totaling Rs 50,000 crore in the past four months. On the sectoral front, select real estate stocks were buzzing on report that housing sales increased by 25% in the country's seven major cities in April to 1,726 units over the previous month, driven by the Delhi-NCR market which saw a sharp rise in demand. Total housing sales stood at 1,382 units in March at seven major cities – the National Capital Region (NCR), Mumbai Metropolitan Region (MMR), Kolkata, Chennai, Bengaluru, Hyderabad and Pune.

Global Market Overview

Asian markets end mostly lower on Tuesday

Asian equity markets ended mostly lower on Tuesday amid continued uncertainty over trade after US President Donald Trump expressed optimism about trade talks with China but claimed past negotiations have been one-sided in favor of Beijing, for so many years. A raft of mixed economic data from China also kept investors nervous. Japanese shares ended modestly lower as investors opted to book some profits following three consecutive sessions of gains. However, Chinese shares ended higher as optimism towards MSCI inclusion of 234 China-listed shares helped investors shrug off renewed trade tensions and mixed economic readings. Chinese industrial output grew 7.0 percent year-on-year in April, the National Bureau of Statistics said. That topped expectations for an increase of 6.4 percent and was up from 6.0 percent in March.

US markets closed lower on Tuesday

The US markets closed lower on Tuesday, with a lengthy winning streak for the Dow coming to an end as a benchmark government bond yield jumped to a multiyear high, challenging appetite for equities compared with climbing rates for risk-free bonds. The day's losses were widespread and steep, with major indexes seeing their biggest one-day drop in about three weeks. Dallas Federal Reserve Bank President Robert Kaplan said he wasn't concerned with the rise in the yield on the 10-year Treasury note which pushed further above 3% to its highest level since 2011. Kaplan added that to the extent the curve gets a little steeper that gives the Fed a little more operating room. In his earlier remarks, Kaplan said the Fed should continue to raise rates but didn't offer a view on how many more increases it should deliver in 2018. Kaplan enlightened that US inflation is rising toward the Federal Reserve's 2 percent goal while not accelerating enough to suggest the economy is overheating. Inflation data for April indicated further growth on domestic wages and consumer prices although they fell short of market expectations.

➤ Corporate outlook likely to remain stable in FY19: Ind-Ra

With profitability improvement in the last fiscal year (FY18), credit rating agency, India Ratings and Research (Ind-Ra) in its latest report has said that corporate outlook is expected to remain stable in the current fiscal year (FY19). However, it said that the improvement will be limited to the metals sector and added that a broader recovery may be after much longer period.

As per the report titled 'Corporate Risk Radar FY19', India Inc revenue is likely to grow at rate of 7%-9% and EBITDA may grow at 8%-11%, on the back of rising demand in consumption-led sectors such as automobiles and retail, low base effect and higher realisation in commodity-linked sectors. However, the report found that export-linked sectors such as pharmaceuticals and information technology are expected to face challenges in the year amid concerns of global trade headwinds.

Ind-Ra further said that EBITDA growth will be limited, owing to the factors like higher commodity prices, higher interest cost and depreciation in rupee. Besides, it said that EBITDA growth will also be limited by little capital expenditure until 2019-2020. It also expects the working capital cycle to further deteriorate, given the impact of the implementation of the Goods and Services Tax regime and an initial pick-up in economic activities. Sectors such as oil and gas, metals, and chemicals could witness elongation of working capital cycle with rising commodity prices. However, auto and auto ancillary sectors will continue to have a stable working capital cycle, amid strong demand.

➤ MNRE unveils national wind-solar hybrid policy

In yet another effort to boost clean energy generation, the Ministry of New and Renewable Energy (MNRE) has unveiled India's national wind-solar hybrid policy. The new policy seeks to provide a comprehensive framework for promotion of large grid connected wind-solar photovoltaic (PV) hybrid system for efficient utilization of transmission infrastructure and land. It also aims at reducing the variability in renewable power generation and achieving better grid stability. That apart, it also aims to encourage new technologies, methods and way-outs involving combined operation of wind and solar PV plants.

The Ministry has said that solar and wind power being variable in nature pose certain challenges on grid security and stability and therefore suitable policy interventions are required not only for new wind-solar hybrid plants, but also for encouraging hybridisation of existing plants. Further, the policy provides for procurement of power from a hybrid project on tariff-based transparent bidding process for which government entities may invite bids. It also permits use of battery storage in hybrid projects for optimising output and further reduce variability.

The renewable energy policy also mandates the regulatory authorities to formulate necessary standards and regulations for wind-solar hybrid systems. Under the policy which is first, the government will extend all fiscal and financial incentives available to wind and solar power projects to hybrid projects. It will also support technology development projects in the field. On the technology front, the policy provides for the integration of both the energy sources, wind and solar, at Alternating Current (AC) as well as Direct Current (DC) levels. Besides, the government has set a target of 175 gigawatt (GW) renewable power installed capacity by the end of 2022.

➤ India's economy needs to grow at 10% for next 30 years to meet population's demands: Kant

In order to meet the ever-increasing demands of India's growing population, NITI Aayog CEO Amitabh Kant has said that the country's real Gross domestic product (GDP) must register a growth of around 10 percent annually over the next three decades. However, he cautioned that this order of growth will not be attained if the 'business-as-usual' approach to the use of scarce resources continues.

Kant has said that for reducing reliance on fossil fuels in transportation, a NITI Aayog analysis suggests that the way forward is the use of bio-fuels. He also said that they are giving a big push to electric vehicles in a bid to conserve exhaustible natural resources and bring about resource efficiency. Besides, he emphasized the need to embed the principles of circular economy in India's school education system. He also explained that a circular economy, in contrast to the 'make-use-dispose' model of the linear economy, focuses on use of resources for longest possible time as also recovering and regenerating products and materials at the end of their life cycle.

Noting that the government needs to enable regulatory framework for circular economy, NITI Aayog CEO said that they should incentivize use of renewable material for construction sector. He also stressed that the government needs to push the limits of the circular economy and make it a mass movement.
