LKPs In & Out's – Weekly Bulletin

Important Market & Industry Information

2. Commodity & Currency Research Desk

- Rupee traded weak in the week by 0.50rs at 82.85 from 82.30 as the dollar index rise from $103.50 and higher interest cycle adaption globally kept the prices pressured. US FED's statement of even higher interest rates due to higher inflation kept the sentiment weak and dollar buying was witnessed. PSU banks good performance helped rupee to hold in first half of the week, but in last couple of days profit booking in capital markets added pressure on rupee as well. Rupee can be seen in range of 82.50-83.25.
- Gold prices were weak in the week due last couple of days selloff witnessed in Comex on back of hawkish sentiments from FED's desk. Comex Gold saw selling from 1800$ to 1780$ as higher interest shall continue in still very high inflation rates concern from Fed's. MCX Gold saw flat rates compared to last week but correction in the week after rise was witnessed from 55000 to flat 54000 the level which was held last week due to rupee weakness MCX Gold remained flat on weekly basis compared to -1% drop in Comex.
- LKP Commodity Spade a weekly pick, new report will be out on Monday, 19th Dec 2022, Report will be available on our LKP Research page
